Experts Examine Creek District, Now Prominent.

PORTANCE THE NOME REGION

Deposits Contain Greatest Values in Deep.

James P. Harvey, the well-known and prominent mining expert, and representing the Patsy Clark interests of Spokane, Wash., has gone to Furnace Creek, says the Las Vegas Times, accompanied by J. M. Porter, a mining engineer of note, to start and give direction to the development of the work that will demonstrate the value of one of the most promising copper finds in the West, the Furnace Creek Copper company's holding in that section.

Seventeen Claims in Group.
Patsy Clark owns three-fourths of the stock of the group, but the other one-fourth is held by the Patsy Clark interests of Spokane, Wash. The district for the amount of work done has phenomenal showings. These, from the mineral and geologic view, are such as to excite the confidence in its future that brings capitalists of the Clark capacity into its midst to develop these resources.

Has Faith in Deposits.
Mr. Harvey, whose practical experience in mining is such as to give him the standing as of the best in the West, has an undoubted confidence that the Furnace Creek property or district in time will develop into one of the great copper producers of the country. The building of the Clark road, the first of the series, is the present development work. This road, when completed, will approach the mines so that only a haul by wagon of eighteen miles will be necessary.

Will Be Ready to Ship.
The ore or vein is located in a granite porphyry formation. The lead is from four to twelve feet in width and carries values of from 20 per cent to 40 per cent copper and by product values of about $100,000 that will pay for mining. The ore in sight is of a shipping grade and by the time the Clark road will reach Ash Meadows the Furnace Creek company will be ready to furnish the new railroad a liberal tonnage.

Mecca for Prospectors.
The vein runs at right angles over the Funeral range of mountains. By standing on the summit of the copper Blue claim one is able to see the highest and lowest points in the compass of the United States. Mount Whitney, rising majestically to the west, and the base of the famous Death valley, that waterless waste 400 feet below the level of the sea. This country has been the Mecca for the prospectors of the future, but as yet, except for the geological and mineralogical work, the development of the numerous fields made in the Funeral and Funeral ranges. The real stuff work being done is that of Mr. Clark under the direction of Mr. Harvey.

Lack of Water Is Drawback.
It is a hard game to do mining in the belt. Water is scarce. The best approach is sixteen miles, but these disadvantages are more than made up for by the opening of one of the great mines of the continent at this point.

WILL BREAK RECORDS.
Amalgamated Copper Output Will Exceed All Past Performances.
At the January rate of output the two smelters of the Amalgamated Copper company will produce in the next few months 50,000 pounds of copper, says the Boston Commercial. The January output is at the rate of 200,000 pounds a year, 30,000 for the Washoe plant and 170,000 for the 50,000-pound for the Boston and Montana smelter at Great Falls. The best information is that during the first two weeks of January the Washoe smelter's production amounted to 8,400,000 pounds, and the output is likely to be increased during the year.

Will Break Records.
The Washoe is at present treating 750 tons of ore a day, all of which comes from Amalgamated and North Butte mines. With the exception of about 30 tons a day of copper ore, the Washoe is also treating some ore from the Boston and Montana mines, and the latter are shipping to the Great Falls smelter 420 tons a day, about 250 tons more than was shipped to that smelter during the last six months of last year. The Amalgamated company has started the new year with an evident intention to break all records of yearly production of copper.

NEW SLATE DISCOVERED.
Maine Provides New Variety of Slate for Roofing Purposes.
A new variety of slate has been discovered by Prof. T. Nelson Dale of the United States geological survey, in the town of Foxcroft, Somerset county, in central Maine, between the Kennebec and Piscataqua rivers. The slate crops out in the bed of Holly brook, where it is exposed for a distance of about three miles across the cleavage. The nearest railroad is the Somerset railway extension at Mooseport Narrows, six miles distant.

FORTUNES OF AMERICA

Croesus Had Only a Tith of Wealth of Some American Millionaires.
The great fortunes that have sprung up so amazingly in this country during recent decades today, in the opinion of many serious thinkers, constitute a menace to our national well-being. Without these great fortunes there would be no reign of luxury in America, no flaunting of feasts and follies, no riot of extravagance, with them we may expect all the evils that have in previous civilization attended upon enormous riches. And many of these evils, as we have already seen, are actually with us.

It is admitted that we are the richest people in the world today—the richest people the world has ever seen. The vaunted wealth of Croesus is estimated at not more than $500,000, but there are twenty American estates that average $50,000,000 each. As showing the rapid growth of individual fortunes in this country there is interest in a list of rich men printed in 1855—according to which New York City at that time boasted only twenty-eight millionaires. And a pamphlet published some years earlier says that in 1845 Philadelphia could show only ten estates valued at a million or more, the richest being that of Stephen Girard, which reached $7,000,000. In contrast to which in 1892 there were over two hundred millionaires in Philadelphia.

As to New York City, the number of its millionaires, according to best information, is over 2000, while the number of millionaires in the United States is at least 5000, or half the total number in the world. There is one family alone, at the head of which stands the richest and most powerful man in the world, John D. Rockefeller, and the wealth of this family is estimated at $1,000,000,000, a sum so huge that the human mind quite fails to grasp it. Some one has said that if at the birth of Christ Mr. Rockefeller had begun making a dollar a minute, and had let all these dollars accumulate day and night for all these centuries, he would not yet, in 1906, have amassed $1,000,000,000. And if Mr. Rockefeller should today turn this wealth into gold coin and take it out of the country, say into Canada, he would carry across the border three times as much gold as would then remain in the United States. For would he carry it himself, the weight of it would be 1750 tons. And if he loaded it on the backs of porters, each man bearing his own weight in solid gold (say 150 pounds), it would require 23,000 men to move it. And if they walked ten feet apart, the line of men would reach forty-four miles and would occupy fifteen hours in passing a given point. None of which takes any account of the daily interest on this fortune, which interest, if paid in gold, would require a man and a mule to carry it, for it would weigh 1600 pounds. Such are the riches of a single family!—Success.

Why She Smoked a Cigar.
Ever see a woman with her hands full of bundles get on a street car? "Well, I guess you never saw one get on the way I saw one the other afternoon. A woman and a child were standing at the corner of Fulton and Adams streets waiting for a car. The woman had been shopping and was loaded with bundles. The man was smoking, too, with bundles. The man was smoking, and the smoke got into his eyes. He dropped two or three of the bundles and grabbed for them. Then he seemed to lose his nerve, dropped some more bundles and grabbed for some more. "Here comes our car!" yelled the woman as it showed up. "The man was clawing about wildly for bundles and trying to see through smoke-blinds. Then he saw the car. Here, here, take this!" and he handed to his wife the partly smoked cigar. She sneaked it into the nearest pocket and middle fingers, while she hooked one of the big bundles under her elbow. A bundle on the right side began to slip away from her. She needed more arms and hands, so she set her lips firmly together like one about to take a dose of medicine. Then she opened them with a wicked snap, put the cigar in her mouth, absent-mindedly, as if it were a hairpin, made a lunge with the disengaged fingers for the slipping bundle, just as the car slowed up in front of her. At the same instant three or four newbies jumped to the side of the car calling out the evening papers. One snatched the bundle from the woman's hand in her mouth and hoisted it. "Look at de ole hen smoking!" a s-e-g-a-

BUILDING BOOM STILL CONTINUES

Figures for January Show a Decrease in but Nine Cities.

OPEN WEATHER HAS HELPED THE CONTRACTORS

Conclusion Is That Present Construction Movement Is on Solid Basis.

Official reports from over fifty representative cities throughout the country, compiled by the American Contractor, Chicago, show that building operations are being carried on to a decidedly greater extent than is usual at this season of the year. That the unusually open weather which has thus far prevailed has had something to do with this unprecedented activity, must be admitted—indeed, go far toward explaining the highly gratifying conditions at present prevailing, were it not for the circumstance that the recent general average of gains over the corresponding months of the preceding year have been for a long time substantially maintained. The logical conclusion is that the present construction movement rests upon a very substantial foundation and is almost certain to be carried forward during the present year at least.

But Nine Show Decrease.
Of the entire list of cities tabulated, only nine show a decrease as compared with January, 1905, and none of these is in the first class. On the other hand, seventeen cities show an increase of more than 100 per cent. These cities and the percentage of their gain are: Atlanta, 169; Cleveland, 57; Chattanooga, 54; Detroit, 25; Duluth, 113; Hartford, 94; Minneapolis, 164; Nashville, 119; Omaha, 349; Paterson, 141; Pittsburgh, 54; St. Paul, 117; Syracuse, 230; Toledo, 107; Toledo, 117; Wilmington, Del., 137; Worcester, 716. New York City, 100. The largest gain was made by Philadelphia, 24, St. Louis 71, and Kansas City 97. As plans for spring operations are now being drawn, it seems almost certain that this splendid record will be maintained during the remainder of the winter.
